Government Extends Tenure of PLI Scheme for Auto Industry

The tenure of the PLI scheme for the automobile industry has been extended by the government by a year.

The tenure of the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Automobile and Auto Components has been extended by the government by one year with partial amendments.

Under the amended scheme, the incentive would apply for five consecutive financial years, beginning from the financial year 2023-24 (FY24).

The distribution of incentives will take place in the next financial year 2024-25.

The scheme also clarifies that an approved applicant would be eligible for benefits for 5 consecutive financial years, but not more than the financial year ending March 31, 2028.

Further, the amendments state that if an approved company fails to meet the prescribed selling price increase limit in the first year, it will not get any incentive for that year.

However, it will still be eligible for benefits in the following year if it meets the threshold calculated based on a 10% year-on-year increase over the earlier year's threshold.

The amendment also includes changes in the table showing the incentive outlay, taking the total indicative incentive amount to Rs 25,938 crore.

Small Finance Banks Launch 'Small Banks: Empowering Big Dreams'

While each small finance bank (SFB) has a different tagline to capture customers' attention, they will also have a common one—"Small Banks: Empowering Big Dreams" to highlight the success of their business model to all stakeholders.

SFBs are mandated to lend at least 75% of their total advances to priority sectors such as agriculture, micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs), education, housing, and others.

Further, at least 50 per cent of their loan portfolio should comprise loans and advances of up to ₹25 lakh.

10 SFBs commenced operations in the 2016-2017.

In 2021, Shivalik Mercantile Co-operative Bank transitioned to become an SFB.

In 2021, Unity SFB was given a license on the condition that it take over the fraud-hit Punjab & Maharashtra Co-operative Bank.

The tagline "Small Banks: Empowering Big Dreams" reflects the philosophy of all 12 SFBs.

In its latest "Report on Trend and Progress of Banking in India", RBI noted that SFBs serve a critical role in delivering credit to under-banked segments.

BUSINESS

India to Become World's Largest Metallurgical Coal Importer

India will become the largest metallurgical coal importer in the world by 2026.

According to the International Energy Agency (IEA), global metallurgical coal trade will increase by about 2% to 353 million tonnes (MT) in 2026.

Rise in India's metallurgical coal imports will be aided by growing industrialization, higher steel consumption and limited availability of coking coal.

The IEA predicted that rising imports from other countries will balance off a decline in metallurgical coal imports into China of roughly 28 MT, or 28% compared to 2023.

IEA said imports into India will increase by 2026, by 16 MT (or 21%).

According to IEA, the global metallurgical coal imports are expected to have increased by about 11% y-o-y to 352 MT in 2023.

As per the IEA, China and India have been the main drivers of this surge, with China overtaking India to regain its position as the largest importer of metallurgical coal.

IEA added it is expected China's imports have increased by 56% y-o-y to 100 MT.

India's imports are expected to have increased by 17% to 78 MT.

IEA pointed out India is increasingly replacing Australian metallurgical coal with Russian.
