Kutch Ajrakh, Traditional Textile Craft, Has Recently Earned GI Tag

The traditional artisans of 'Kutch Ajrakh' in Gujarat have been awarded the prestigious Geographical Indication (GI) certificate by the Controller General of Patents, Designs, and Trademarks (CGPDTM).

This recognition celebrates the intricate textile craft that has been a part of Kutch's vibrant culture for centuries.

Ajrakh, a textile craft that has been deeply rooted in Gujarat's cultural tapestry, holds a revered place in the regions of Sindh, Barmer, and Kutch, where its legacy spans millennia.

The art of Ajrakh involves a meticulous process of hand-block printing on treated cotton cloth, resulting in intricate designs infused with rich symbolism and history.

The word "Ajrakh" is derived from the word "Azrak," meaning indigo, a well-known substance used to achieve a bluish effect.

Traditionally, Ajrakh prints consisted of three colours: blue, representing the sky; red, signifying the land and fire; and white, symbolizing the stars.

Small Finance Banks to Request Reserve Bank of India Guidance on Loan Book Diversification

Small finance banks (SFBs) are likely to seek clarification from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on loan portfolio diversification, as the regulator has not specified the extent of diversification that should be seen as desirable.

In the recent guidelines provided by the RBI for the voluntary transition of SFBs to universal banks, the regulator indicated a preference for eligible SFBs with diversified loan portfolios.

Presently, there are 11 SFBs in operation, with AU and Fincare merging earlier in the year.

However, two of these banks, Unity and Shivalik, have not completed 5 years of operation, and NE SFB is not listed.

A satisfactory track record of performance for a minimum period of 5 years and being listed on a recognised stock exchange are the first two criteria mandated by the regulator for conversion into a universal bank.

Eight out of the 10 SFBs licensed in the first phase in 2015 were converted from microfinance institutions, highlighting their roots in financial inclusion.

All SFBs are required to allocate at least 75% of their lending to the priority sector, with 50% of loans below Rs 25 lakh. Consequently, their exposure is primarily in the priority sector.

The largest SFB in the country, AU SFB, which has a well-diversified loan book, meets all the parameters set by the regulator for conversion to a universal bank.
