Karnataka's Anna Bhagya Scheme

- The Karnataka government is facing challenges in implementing the Anna Bhagya scheme starting from 01 July due to the unavailability of the required amount of rice.
- The state government intends to increase the allocation of free rice from 5 kg to 10 kg per person on Below Poverty Line (BPL) cards under the Anna Bhagya scheme.
- This discontinuation of rice supply has created difficulties for the implementation of the Anna Bhagya scheme.
- However, Punjab has in principle agreed to supply rice to Karnataka in the required quantity.
- The aim of this increase in free rice allocation is to provide more support and food security to the persons belonging to BPL category.
- The implementation of this revised allocation is scheduled to begin from July 1.
- The increased allocation of free rice will cost the state government an estimated ₹840 crore per month.
- Annually, the scheme is expected to cost Rs 10,092 crore to the state exchequer.

New Landmark Trading Scheme for Developing Countries

- The UK launched the Developing Countries Trade Scheme (DCTS).

- This trade scheme provides a significant opportunity for India and 65 other poor and developing countries.
- The scheme simplifies trading rules and cuts tariffs on products entering the UK from 65 developing countries, including Bangladesh.
- This is a preferential trading program that has been introduced by the United Kingdom.
- The DCTS replaces similar arrangements that were previously in place during the UK's membership in the European Union.
- The primary objective of the scheme is to support trade and promote economic growth for 65 poor and developing countries.
- Through the DCTS, these countries are granted preferential treatment in terms of trade, with reduced or eliminated tariffs on certain products imported into the United Kingdom.
- By providing favorable trading conditions, the DCTS aims to enhance market access for these countries, stimulate economic activity, and foster mutually beneficial trade relationships.
- It plays a role in diversifying local and international supply chains, which contributes to job creation and economic growth in these countries.
