Banks Seek Time-Bound Data Sharing From CEIB

- To help curb frauds in the banking system, lenders have worked out a 20-point standard format to seek information on borrowers from the Central Economic Intelligence Bureau (CEIB) before sanctioning big-ticket loans.
- The move for a uniform format is aimed at reducing the delay in getting such information on economic offences.
- The lenders, under the aegis of the Indian Banks' Association (IBA), will approach the finance ministry and the CEIB for digitising the entire process of information exchange to ensure real-time and time-bound information.
- The report usually contains details of the borrowers' track record, dealings with various financial institutions and possible exposure through related parties.
- This will help curb frauds and speed up big-ticket lending.
